Parents' Voice - Celebrating Parents

For Parents' Week 2011, Parents' Voice is celebrating parents. As well as posting our favourite quotes and poems on Facebook and Twitter during Parents' Week we want you to send us your poems or short humorous anecdotes about being a parent.

There will be an opportunity to win £20 worth of shopping vouchers for entries received by Monday 14 November 2011. Please be aware that we will be sharing selected entries in our newsletter, on our website, and on Facebook and Twitter.

If you're not already a member of Parents' Voice then you can sign up as you complete the entry form (there is no cost involved and no obligation to become a member, although we would love it if you join us).

We will be sharing some of your entries on the Parents' Voice website in November, so do look out for them! In the meantime, visit us on Facebook and follow us on Twitter.

Many thanks and good luck.

Here are some of the quotes selected by members of the committee that will be posted on Facebook and Twitter during Parents' Week

A parent's love is whole no matter how many times divided - Robert Brault

Making the decision to have a child is momentous. It is to decide forever to have your heart go walking around outside your body - Elizabeth Stone

To bring up a child in the way he should go, travel that way yourself once in a while - Josh Billings

You have a lifetime to work, but children are only young once - Polish Proverb

Parenting is a stage of life's journey where the milestones come about every fifty feet - Robert Brault
